

▶ Become the insurer you want to be. With EIS there's nothing holding you back.

The insurance industry is undergoing rapid and profound transformation driven by new industry players, heightened customer expectations, and changing demographics. To protect market share, reduce risk, and create winning customer experiences, insurance companies must embrace core technologies that enable ubiquitous connectivity and seamless data flow.

EIS coretech powers transformation at speed.

While legacy and modern legacy insurance systems lock you into a rigid environment that prevents you from innovating, our platform is built for the opposite: flexibility, openness, and scalability. Built on the same open, cloud-native technologies as insurtech solutions, coretech enables the creation of interconnected ecosystems of products, services, distributors, and consumers. This provides the freedom all insurers need to enable frictionless, personalized, and responsive customer journeys.

One insurance platform, all lines of business

EIS does what other vendors can't: manage P&C, L&A, A&H, group & voluntary benefits, specialty, travel, and other lines of business at scale. This is a powerful new path to consolidating your insurance core systems, reducing technical debt, and maximizing ROI.

API-enabled connectivity

As an API-first digital insurance platform, EIS enables insurers to connect with any internal or external data sources. Freely connect to insurtechs and third-party systems to drive innovation, personalize experiences, and replace manual, paper-bound processes with simplicity and automation.

SaaS delivery model

Our SaaS delivery model offloads resource-intensive activities, like maintenance, updating, security, and storage, from your IT department. By handling underlying tech burdens for you, EIS liberates you from legacy and operational constraints, enabling your teams to focus on content delivery, the customer experience, and business innovation.

EIS University

Our comprehensive training and education offerings help insurers and partners achieve exceptional results faster.

We offer:

- Role-based learning plans
- Easy-to-understand on-demand courses, workshops, and tutorials
- Certification programs for business architects/analysts, engineers, and solution/enterprise architects

Implementation, Technology & Systems Integration Partners

Our partners combine technical knowledge with industry expertise to deliver superior service and measurable success through implementation and beyond.

Lead with speed.

The single most decisive differentiator for insurance companies is speed. An insurer's ability to transform, innovate, and operate at speed will determine their success in the market. At EIS, speed is at the core of who we are. Our platform for high-velocity insurance enables insurers to grow by accelerating everything they do.

Go live faster

- Get everything you need out of the box, then configure products, processes, and customer experiences to your unique requirements.
- Split the core systems renewal into components and “turn on” capabilities one at a time, accelerating ROI.
- Reduce technical debt with a cloud-native solution that lets you pay only for what you need.
- Rapid core renewal through cloud-native technology, agile delivery, proven implementation, and conversion methodology.

Innovate at will

- Reduce your time to market, quickly launching new rates, localized product bundles, or entirely new personalized products.
- Easily connect with ecosystem players, such as insurtechs, customer engagement programs, and third-party data providers, to automate complex processes like underwriting, claims, and quotes.
- Use low code/no code tooling to empower business users to test and launch new products, bundles, and customer experiences.

Simplify relentlessly

- Create true 360° customer records across systems, lines of business, and channels.
- Personalize products, services, and prices to any individual.
- Open new distribution channels and recognize customers as they engage in different ways.
- Create differentiated digital experiences across the entire insurance value chain: quotes, underwriting, policy admin, billing, claims, and service.
- Keep agents connected through the entire insurance life cycle.

Pivot on a dime

- Gain the speed and agility you need to rapidly transform your business, continuously rolling out new capabilities, and be ready for whatever comes next.
- Ignite business transformation with a platform that supports emerging business models, such as usage-based and parametric insurance, and B2B2C.
- Benefit from continuous platform improvements and painless upgrades that enable you to keep pace with changing customer behaviors and motivations.
